5 Free Social Media Captions for Real Estate Agents

Ready-to-post captions written for the moments that matter: a new listing, an open house, a market update, a conversation starter and a weekend local post.

Copy. Personalize the [brackets]. Post.

Each caption takes about two minutes to make your own.

CAPTION 1 OF 5 — JUST LISTED

Just listed in [Neighborhood]. [3] beds, [2] baths, and the kitchen everyone will talk about. Homes like this do not sit for long here - DM me 'TOUR' for a private showing before the weekend crowd.

How to use it:

Swap in your neighborhood, beds/baths and the standout feature, pair it with the brightest photo of the home, and post it the day the listing goes live.

CAPTION 2 OF 5 — OPEN HOUSE

Open house this [Saturday] from [12-2pm] at [Address]. Coffee is on me, questions are welcome, and yes - you can open every closet. That is what open houses are for. See you there.

How to use it:

Fill in the day, time and address, post it 2-3 days before the open house, and share it once more in your stories on the morning itself.

CAPTION 3 OF 5 — MARKET UPDATE

[Month] market snapshot from my own desk: [X] homes listed, [X] sold, happiest moment: [brief moment]. Thank you, [City], for another month of trust. If your name belongs on next month's list, you know where to find me.

How to use it:

Pull the three numbers from your MLS at the start of the month, add one real moment from your own desk, and post it as your monthly market check-in.

CAPTION 4 OF 5 — ENGAGEMENT

Settle a debate in my comments: kitchen island or dining room table - where does everyone actually end up at your house? I show homes for a living and I have a strong theory, but I want your data first.

How to use it:

Post it exactly as written, then reply to every comment and ask follow-up questions. Question posts work best mid-week, when feeds are quieter.

CAPTION 5 OF 5 — WEEKEND

[X] things to do in [Neighborhood] this weekend: 1) [Farmers market at Place], 2) [Trail/park], 3) [Event]. Living here means your weekends plan themselves. Which one are you picking? I will be at [#] - say hi if you see me.

How to use it:

Name three real local spots, tag the businesses where you can, and post on Friday morning while people are planning their weekend.
